RT. HON. SIR WILFRID LAURIER, P.C., K.C.M.G.

(Prime Minister and President of the Council.)

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister of Canada, was born in the village of St. Lin, County of L'Assomption, Province of Quebec, on the 20th of November, 1841, his father being the late Carolus Laurier, Provincial Land Surveyor, a descendant of an old French family. He was educated at L'Assomption College and at the University of McGill, where, in 1864, he took the degree of B.C.L. He was called to the Bar the same year, and on October 11, 1880, was appointed a Q.C. His first parliamentary experience was as a member of the Quebec Assembly, to which he was elected in 1871 for the Counties of Drummond and Arthabaska. He represented that constituency in the local House until 1874, when he resigned to contest the same seat for the House of Commons, in which he was successful. In 1877 he entered Hon. Mr. Mackenzie's Administration as Minister of Inland Revenue. At the by-election held through his acceptance of office he was defeated, but found a seat in Quebec East, through the resignation of the Hon. I. Thibaudeau, and retained his portfolio until the resignation of the Mackenzie Administration in 1878. He was re-elected for Quebec East at the general elections of 1878, 1882, 1887, 1891 and 1896, in which year he was also elected for Saskatchewan, but chose to stand by his old constituency. On the retirement of the Hon. Edward Blake, in 1888, from the leadership of the Liberal Party, Mr. Laurier was unanimously chosen for the position, which by his winning personality and commanding eloquence he has vitalized from a dormant faction into a living force. On the resignation of Sir Charles Tupper's Administration in 1896, Sir Wilfrid was sent for by Lord Aberdeen to form a Government, himself as Prime Minister and President of the Council. Sir Wilfrid, like a great many of Canada's public men, has had some journalistic experience, having been at one time editor of a paper called Le Défricheur. At the celebration of Queen Victoria's Jubilee in 1897, Sir Wilfrid represented Canada with such dignity and grace as to command the admiration of all classes in the two countries. On that occasion Her Majesty bestowed on him the rank of K.C.M.G., and he was also the recipient of many other tokens of appreciation from different cities in England and Scotland. He also visited Paris, and was specially honored by the President of the French Republic and by several public bodies. During his tour, which was in the nature of a triumphal procession, he delivered several notable addresses, and, for a time at least, attracted universal attention to Canada, which there is good reason to believe will benefit greatly in the future from the masterly way in which he set forth her claims as a field for the capitalist and emigrant. Sir Wilfrid was married on May 13, 1858, to Miss Lafontaine, who shares with him the esteem of the whole Canadian people.

It is safe to affirm that no man living knows more of that extensive tract of country known as the North-West Territories than Lord Strathcona.
